Celebrating twenty-five years of groundbreaking scholarship, this series offers a wide variety of volumes about American television programming. The series includes books about individual shows, specific genres, creators and producers, and the history of the medium. Interview collections, anthologies, and newly updated classics, such as the widely course-adopted Watching TV, are also included in the series. Books in the series have won honors such as the Popular Culture Association Board of Governors Award and the Theatre Historical Society of America’s Outstanding Book of the Year Award.

Since its founding, the series has expanded its field of interest to include works on other subjects in American popular culture and mass entertainment as well, including vaudeville, comics, movies, and radio broadcasting. We welcome proposals addressing all issues in television and popular culture, including the impacts of Netflix, Amazon, web streaming and web series, commercials (or the lack thereof), and graphic novels.

Series Editor
Robert J. Thompson, Syracuse University
rthompso@syr.edu

Acquisitions Editor
Deborah Manion
dmmanion@syr.edu
“A collection that deserves to be savored, taught, and revisited by media scholars, students, and fans alike. This is truly peak media writers writing on peak TV.”
—Rebecca Bell-Metereau, Texas State University

Paper $34.95s 9780815637134

“This collection is of particular value for scholars interested in representations of black womanhood and is highly stimulating for the sheer diversity of views it presents.”

Paper $39.95s 9780815636366

“This volume will be of particular value to scholars invested in queer readings of television. . . . [and] its inclusion of commentary from production staff.”

Paper $34.95s 9780815636366
“The continuing fascination with Gilmore Girls . . . suggests just how much there is to the show, and the essays in this collection mine much of this territory quite well.”

—The Complete Review

Paper $29.95s 9780815635284

“A colorful book about a remarkable television series . . . . It enhances the study of the American presidency while quietly illuminating a lifetime collaboration of two remarkable film/history scholars.”

—Film and History: An Interdisciplinary Journal of Film and Television Studies

Paper $19.95s 9780815630319

Interrogating “The Shield” brings together ten critical essays, written from a variety of methodological and theoretical perspectives. Topics range from an exploration of the series’ derivation, genre, and production, to expositions of the ethics, aesthetics, and politics of the show.

Hardcover $29.95s 9780815633082
Syracuse
Castleman
Podrazik

Castleman and Podrazik present a sweeping season-by-season story, capturing the essence of television from its inception to the contemporary era of anytime access and online streaming, including every prime time fall schedule since 1944. The authors have dug through the mounds of obscure facts, offbeat anecdotes, and corporate strategies that have made television a multibillion-dollar industry.

Watching TV provides a fascinating history of how the personalities, popular shows, and coverage of key events have evolved across eight decades. Full of facts, firsts, insights, and exploits, as well as rare and memorable photographs, Watching TV is the standard history of American television. This third edition includes coverage up through the mid-2010s and looks ahead to the next waves of change.

“Castleman and Podrazik have put together a well-researched, tightly written documentary on the development of the television industry and the individuals involved.”

“An invaluable resource for those studying or researching popular culture. . . . Highly recommended.”

“The authors have meticulously documented an in-depth survey of the entire world of TV trends and programming from the industry’s beginnings, presenting along the way some very judicious critical analyses.”

“A critical anthology edited by some of the architects of Whedon Studies, offers an exciting, engaging snapshot of the work produced by scholars in this growing area of study.”

Harry Castleman
Walter J. Podrazik

Front: Photograph copyright © 2016, Digital Focus–Peter Sills; photographic inserts: Barbara Brown; Rebecca Freeman; Svengoolie © 2014 MeTV National Limited Partnership, and the Museum of Broadcast Communications in Chicago.

Television and Popular Culture
Syracuse University Press
Syracuse, New York 13244-5290
www.SyracuseUniversityPress.syr.edu

Paper $39.95 9780815611059

“The last word on TV endings.”
—Matt Zoller Seitz, television critic for New York Magazine

“An invaluable resource for those studying or researching popular culture. . . . Highly recommended.”
—Choice

“The authors have meticulously documented an in-depth survey of the entire world of TV trends and programming from the industry’s beginnings, presenting along the way some very judicious critical analyses.”
—Library Journal

Paper $49.95s 9780815634386

“Reading Joss Whedon”
Edited by Rhonda V. Wilcox, Tanya R. Cochran, Cynthia Masson, David Lavery

Paper $29.95 9780815610380

“A critical anthology edited by some of the architects of Whedon Studies, offers an exciting, engaging snapshot of the work produced by scholars in this growing area of study.”
—Theatre Library Association

Paper $29.95 9780815610380
“This well-researched and rich monograph concludes correctly that Lebanese television, LBC included, has indeed mostly helped establish a ‘new hegemonic order based in consumer culture rather than the breakdown of hegemony.’”

—Middle East Journal

Paper $39.95s 9780815635994

Best Arab American Book of 2020

“Traces the competing narratives of Arab American belonging to enhance the understanding of how Othering is at once constructed and challenged, and what is at stake in those ongoing, parallel processes.”

—New Books Network

Paper $29.95s 9780815636816

“Provides a valuable analytical framework to continue to understand the ways in which the proliferation of black actors on film are confined by the stereotypical legacy of the industry.”

—The Popular Culture Studies Journal Reviews

Paper $19.95s 9780815630050
“The first book-length academic study to investigate the subject from a cultural, cinematic and sociohistorical approach by analyzing the differences between the ways in which the third generation in Israel and second generation portray the Holocaust.”

—Jewish Link

Paper $34.95 9780815636502

“This fascinating account deserves recognition as a distinctive contribution to the literature on the Holocaust, the plight of Jewish survivors in post-war Poland and Germany, and, more generally, European and American Jewish history.”

—East European Jewish Affairs

Paper $14.95 9780815611196

“A useful, engaging contribution to scholarship in several fields, such as American literature, cultural studies, reception studies, and religious history.”

—Australasian Journal of American History

Paper $34.95 9780815634034
“The kind of thorough, thought-provoking research we get throughout this volume will lead us away from excessive simplifications or stifling—possibly unsavory—stereotypes, and force us to reexamine the necessary generalizations we teach and think by.”

—Modernism/modernity

Paper $34.95s 9780815635987

Written with considerable verve and acumen, this wide-ranging study makes an incisive contribution to film theory and history, gender studies, postcolonialism and Irish Studies.”

—Luke Gibbons, coauthor of Cinema and Ireland

Hardcover $39.95s 9780815633327

2021 Edgar Award Nominee

“Here is academic writing that is accessible and fluent...No serious student of Irish crime fiction can be without it.”

—The Irish Times

Paper $29.95s 9780815636830
“A detailed, thorough and unbiased report and analysis of the themes and events that pushed the entertainment industry into an unwanted but unavoidable labor dispute which will have ramifications on the industry for decades.”
—Robert Broder, Chuck Lorre Productions executive

TV on Strike
Why Hollywood Went to War over the Internet

Cynthia Littleton

Hardcover $29.95 9780815610083

“An interesting and very readable book that aims to provide an introduction to the study of English language and linguistics through the medium of popular television programmes.”

—English in Education Journal

WATCHING TV with a LINGUIST

Edited by Kristy Beers Fagersten

Paper $34.95 9780815610816

“Well written and wide-ranging, Stevens’s book will appeal to readers interested in how popular culture has reflected the ongoing national discourse about America’s role in the world.”

—Journal of American History

CAPTAIN AMERICA

J. Richard Stevens

MASCU LINITY, AND VIOLENCE

Paper $29.95 9780815630913